PURE EXPERTZ

VENUE PARTNERSHIP

Fill your quiet hours with a room full of business owners.

We run live business education — lunch and learns, workshops, and watch parties. What we need is a room with a screen. What you get is recurring weekday traffic during the hours you are least busy, and a reason for local professionals to make your place their regular spot.

We bring the audience, the program, and the promotion. You bring the room and the kitchen. No rental fee either direction — you keep 100% of food and beverage. Guests arrive for a late lunch and stay through the afternoon.

What we bring

- The program and the presenter, every session
- Registration, reminders and headcount in advance
- Camera, microphones and streaming gear
- Promotion to our lists and channels
- Co-branded graphics you can post as your own
- Guaranteed minimum spend per head

What you provide

- A private or separable space
- One large screen with an HDMI input
- A power outlet near the presenting area
- Reliable guest wi-fi
- Your normal food and beverage service
- A staff contact who knows the date

The weekly rhythm — Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday

1:00–2:00	Open office hours. Free, and open to your patrons. Late lunch crowd arrives and stays.
2:00–4:00	Workshops and training. The paid programs. Two full hours in your room, three days a week.

What makes a room work.

Most of this you already have. The rest is inexpensive and we help set it up.

- [ ] One large screen, HDMI reachable
  A TV most venues already own. It carries the slides for the room and the remote feed for everyone watching elsewhere.
- [ ] A camera position with power and a clear sightline
  One spot facing the presenting area. We supply the camera.
- [ ] Microphones — including one that goes into the audience
  This is the piece most rooms miss. When the audience can be heard, the people watching remotely are in the conversation instead of watching a broadcast.
- [ ] A room that is not competing with the bar
  Separable space, or a quieter hour. Hard surfaces carry sound — soft rooms record better than loud ones.
- [ ] Weekday lunch capacity you would rather fill
  We are targeting the hours that are already slow. That is the point.

The bigger opportunity — build your own community

A single event fills one afternoon. A venue that can broadcast becomes a node — the place other offices, brokerages and businesses tune into, and the place they come to in person when the topic matters.

From there we help you build your own community around the room. You invite your patrons, we supply the programming and the collateral, and it compounds. We run virtual and in-person events of every kind — and we bring leadership, best management practices, safety and security, and practical AI to the table.

Your first step is a conversation. Come to open office hours — Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, 1–2 PM Central, free. Venue partners who join us there get the full collateral pack to promote their own events: graphics, invitations, and a page of their own.
